Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim 34 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Horimai et al (US 6,215,758).

Horimai et al., according to Figs. 1-2, shows an optical disk comprising: an inner peripheral testing area (test zone of inner region) which is formed in a portion on an inner side of the disk with respect to a program area (user area) and an outer peripheral testing area (test zone of outer region) which is wider than the inner peripheral testing area (see column 8, lines 49-51 which discloses that test zone of outer region consists of 100 sectors and test zone of inner region which consists of 50 sectors) and formed in a portion on an outer side of the disk with respect to a program area (user area), as recited in claim 34.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-33 are allowed over the prior art of record because the prior art of record, considered in combination or individually, fails to suggest or fairly teach an optical disc recording method or device including a combination of all features or limitations as particularly recited in claim 1, 14 or 24. Claims 2-13, 15-23 and 25-33 are allowed with their respective parent claim.

Art Unit: 2653

Cited References

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited references relate to an optical recording apparatus and/or method in which a recording power is controlled based on test recordings in test area(s).
